How did you find Get Out Adventures?

Please communicate any medical conditions that may necessitate emergency medical care during our activities.

GOA takes all reasonable precautions to provide a safe and enjoyable experience. Our vehicles, maintenance program, and tour guides, are reviewed and inspected annually by the Public Utilities Commission.

We wish to inform you as our guest, that a Hummer adventure tour is by nature taking some risks. Mother Nature is constantly on the move, trails can change overnight, and the weather can change in moments. Some things are simply beyond our control. These and other elements can cause personal bodily injury, trauma, and even death. The elements of the activity may also cause damage or loss to personal property.

We will encounter rough, bumpy, and rocky trails, that are often muddy or have running water crossings. Passengers may encounter jolting, jarring, slipping, and shaking as we travel the backcountry. Some trails may pose a threat of vehicle roll over and or failure. Sections of the trails are narrow with cliffs, trees, rocks, and other natural obstacles on either side of the vehicle which can scrape, catch, tear, or otherwise injure or harm property or person if contact occurs. Injury is possible if passenger does not use seatbelts and follow GOA safety guidelines.

It is possible to encounter mechanical breakdowns that may leave the tour stranded for a few hours, until help can be notified and arrive at the scene.

Out of the vehicle one may encounter wildlife, poisonous plants, cactus, slippery surfaces, old buildings, weather, and insects that can cause harm if sufficient care is nor taken.

This is an attempt to educate our clients of the inherent risks of activity with GOA. This list is not complete or exhaustive.
